Roma Tre's Premises and Sustainability Policy

- Roma Tre is an urban university, and its premises are refurbished industrial buildings, our factories of knowledge
- Located in the heart of Rome, its main campuses are positioned in the Pincio/Ostiense area along the subway line
- It strives toward a leading role in the cultural and technological innovation of the knowledge society, as well as toward its sustainable development

- The architectural structures of its premises - old and discontinued plants in the city transformed into factories of ideas and knowledge -, famous for their extraordinary aesthetics, have modified the surrounding territory, bringing urban value to the entire quadrant, synthesizing complementarities between form and substance and becoming attractive meeting points for students and Rome inhabitants

- And the winner is: RHOMÉ for denCity! Italy is world champion in Sustainable Architecture within the Solar Decathlon 2013, an international competition organized by the U.S. Department of Energy in which universities from all over the world meet to design, build and operate a home energy self-sufficient, thanks to the use of solar energy, and equipped with all the technologies useful for maximizing efficiency

- In the field of sustainable mobility, Roma Tre offers its students a fleet of bicycles as well as a variety of car sharing, car pooling and smart mobility devices in cooperation with the Municipality and various companies

Sports at Roma Tre

Roma Tre offers its students a variety of sports facilities including the Alfredo Berra stadium and the Le Torri Club, and supports the university teams in various sporting disciplines.

Our Factories of Knowledge

- Twenty years after its foundation, Roma Tre is a highly identifiable university within the Italian Higher Education system
- This University proves that, in order to make history, a long-standing past is not the only thing you need despite the fact that its original core, the Faculty of Education, had Luigi Pirandello among its professors.

Roma Tre University provides 10 multidisciplinary libraries on campus with over 1,300 workstations. Its collection includes more than 650,000 documents and e-documents

Roma Tre Radio is the voice of Roma Tre University. Run by students and young professionals, it broadcasts musical, cultural, educational, informative programmes and news

Roma Tre offers its students psychological assistance and a variety of support measures for students with disabilities
